Cal Teach Intern Pipeline: Julie, Rosa, Lauren and Gaby

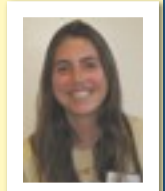

Exploring teaching. Julie Ortiz Rosas, future marine biology major and current Cabrillo College student, is taking advantage of Cal Teach's National Science Foundation summer Noyce internship to explore both the possibility of transferring to UCSC and her interest in a teaching career. She is looking forward to her Cal Teach summer internship placements with several science education programs around Monterey Bay.

Preparing for teaching. Rosa Lee is a junior math major (education track) who is embracing opportunities offered through UCSC's Cal Teach program and the systemwide Cal Teach Science Mathematics Initiative. She has completed CaT1, 2, and 3, as well as several Cal Teach workshops at UCSC. This summer she will participate in the Cal Teach summer research internship at UC Berkeley.

Finishing the credential. Lauren Fieberg (environmental studies/biology '09; Mark Bruce Fellow '09-10) will complete UCSC's MA/credential program in July. Lauren has accepted a job at Chico Green School in Chico, California, where she'll be teaching physical science and art. Lauren is very excited about embarking on this new adventure.

In the classroom. Cal Teach graduate, Gaby Iniguez (math education track, '08; UCSC MA/credential, '09), reports from the end of her first year of teaching algebra in El Centro, California, at the rival of her old high school: "Some days are more challenging than others and I get home tired, but it is great." She is excited to be returning to the same school next year where she works with very supportive colleagues.
