Interested in joining the California Climate Action Summit this Earth Day?

Hello students,

This Earth Month, I’m excited to share a great opportunity with you all.

Since Earth Day was founded in 1970, students have been at the forefront of change to protect our environment. That’s why CALPIRG, the statewide student-directed nonprofit and partners across the country have launched #YouthEarthWeek!

CALPIRG Student Chapters will be hosting the California Climate Action Summit on April 22nd. RSVP here to sign up to join the summit!

Event Schedule:
10am: Climate Action Summit Kickoff and Press Conference
11am: Action Hour: Voices for 100% Social Media Event
12pm: Youth Voices: Youth Voices: Climate Activism Panel
1pm: Bending the Curve: Expert Panel on Climate Solutions
2pm: Climate Advocacy Workshop: Working with the Media
3pm: Clean Energy: What does a 100% Future Look Like?

Some speakers at the event will include Mark Jacobson (Stanford University), Margaret Leinen (Scripps Institution of Oceanography), Asm. Cottie Petrie Norris, Fonna Forman (UC San Diego), Mayor Todd Gloria of San Diego, a message from Sonia Aggarwal of the White House Domestic Climate Policy team, and more!

This is a great opportunity to both take action on Earth Day while sharing in some really insightful conversations surrounding climate solutions. RSVP here today!
CALIFORNIA CLIMATE ACTION SUMMIT

THURSDAY, APRIL 22ND
10AM-4PM PDT

Join us this year on Earth Day for the largest gathering of climate activists and community members in the movement to fight climate change on the West Coast.